

[RoS: Meridian Event Long] Miscellaneous - The Liberation Front Possessions

The Zealots of the Collective aren't just human mercenaries waging war on the Dark Jedi Brotherhood. They, as their name would suggest, are dogmatic extremists that have trained ceaselessly for a long period of time in order to take on and successfully defeat an organization of unimaginable power. In addition to being uniquely skilled combatants, they are armed and armored to fight tooth and nail with Sith. These items include three that are particularly distinctive, the Zealot Claws, the Zealot Cowl and the Zealot Wings. We will describe these three items below.

Name: Zealot Claws Category: Glove Weapon Type: Weapon (Miscellaneous)

Size: 2 slots Rarity: Epic

Description: These gloves wrap from the fist, around the forearm, to just above the elbow. They are made from a tight weave of plasteel cables. From each fingertip protrudes a retractable vibro-claw. These claws are good for climbing and for melee combat. Each claw individually is less powerful than a single vibro-dagger but when used in concert with one another can be quite powerful. They do emit a slight buzzing sound that can make efforts to move stealthily and remain hidden quite difficult.

Name: Zealot Cowl Category: Technology Type: Technology

Size: 1 Slot Rarity: Epic

Description: Sometimes carrying around several different types of tools can be cumbersome. In order to operate smoothly, Zealots wear an armored cowl, that can be used along with most types of armor. This cowl incorporates an encrypted comlink, an advanced scanner, a breath mask, a holcam and an optical device, which lets the user magnify objects and view objects under low light conditions. The use of the Zealot Cowl is sometimes distracting to users with less multitasking abilities.

Name: Zealot Wings Category: Jetpack

Type: Back Size: 1 Slot Rarity: Epic

Description: Zealot wings are a mid-grade jetpack combined with a military grade glider. It is less dangerous and less prone to explosion than most kinds of jetpacks because it is less powerful. The jetpack need only carry the Zealot into the air, where the powerful glider fashioned to look like wings can take over and carry the wearer great distances, depending on the weight of the user and windspeeds. Landings can sometimes be difficult and dangerous, leaving the user vulnerable.
